

ILLINOIS STATE UNIVERSITY BIOARCHAEOLOGY FIELD SCHOOL - 2014

ANTH 381.002 (undergraduate), ANTH 481.002 (graduate)

Dates: July 1- August 8
(July 4th = holiday)

❑ Lab practicum in human skeletal analysis

- identifying various skeletal pathologies
- learning differential diagnostics
- learning aging, sexing, of skeletal material

❑ Bioarchaeological material curated by

- Illinois State Museum (Springfield)
- Dickson Mounds Museum (Lewistown)

❑ Data collected for individual projects

- possible project topics discussed in advance with Dr. Smith
- thesis data for graduate students

-
- Transport: daily van ride (M-F) to Illinois Sate Museum or Dickson Mounds Museum
Student Pick-up/delivery from ISU campus
 - Students need to bring lunch, research materials provided
 - Additional Expenses: share transport fuel, miscellaneous personal expenses
-

Field School Requirements:

ISU-ANTH 372 (paleopathology) or ISU-ANTH 371 (human osteology),
Permission of instructor : Dr. Maria O. Smith (msmith@ilstu.edu)